Dear applicant,

Recruitment of Chief Constable

Following the appointment of Chief Constable Chris Haward to a national role with the NPCC, I am today starting a process for the search and appointment of the county's most senior Police Officer.

Lincolnshire is a vast, beautiful county with coastal, rural and urban areas and we need a Chief Constable who recognises the unique challenges this presents to policing and sees value in being part of the community they serve.

The last three years has seen significant progress in improving the morale and performance of Lincolnshire police. The Force has been restructured and we have completed the transition from our 10 year private-public partnership to bring management of many support services back in house. Partnership remains a strength locally, regionally, and nationally and is key to the Force success.

The foundations that have been laid must now deliver real impact on crime and enhance the safety and feeling of safety for all in the county. We need someone who will listen to the needs of our communities, ensure the Force is visible to those communities and forge strong links with local people that will shape and deliver a long-term vision to lead the Force.

There will be exciting and challenging times ahead and I personally want a Chief Constable who understands how our roles can work well together for the good of Lincolnshire and the need for open and clear dialogue which translates into action and results.

I look forward to working with the new Chief Constable of Lincolnshire Police and seeing the Force go from strength to strength under confident and inclusive leadership.

Yours sincerely

Marc Jones
Police and Crime Commissioner for Lincolnshire

CHIEF CONSTABLE SOUGHT FOR LINCOLNSHIRE POLICE – £174,633 (includes +10% additional salary on appointment) plus benefits

The Lincolnshire Police and Crime Commissioner is seeking to appoint:

A new Chief Constable who will bring a strong, long term vision and commitment to community focussed policing in Lincolnshire. Already a highly effective Chief Officer with breadth and depth of executive leadership experience, the successful candidate will be able to quickly connect and establish credibility with staff, partners, stakeholders and communities across the county.

You should be decisive yet considered in decision making, value an evidence based approach and be willing to own the decisions you make to add confidence to the public and the Force.

You will understand the importance of the PCC and Chief Constable working together for the good of the community, where appropriate and the need for openness and transparency in our scrutiny processes.

You will have an ability to build and maintain strong collaborations, delivering results through the use of operational policing plans which support building trust and confidence internally and externally.

Organisational priorities include driving ongoing improvement and performance, embracing innovation and technology, whilst continuing to develop a culture of collective leadership, where staff feel empowered, valued and can directly contribute.

Protecting and reassuring the public, reducing crime, supporting victims, community policing and protective services whilst increasing public confidence are high on the list of operational policing priorities.

Ensuring the wellbeing and resilience of officers and staff within Lincolnshire Police should also be at the forefront of the new Chief's mind.

We have already done much to achieve savings and efficiencies, within and beyond the organisation but there is still much to do. If you want the exciting challenge of leading Lincolnshire Police to the next level over the next five years and beyond, we look forward to hearing from you.

We can offer you the opportunity to live in one of the most beautiful locations in the UK. As well as the unique blend of policing challenges, Lincolnshire has a rich mix of breath-taking scenery, history and culture, providing a quality of life second to none.
