SUMMARY

The Partnership's draft Engagement Pledge sets out the proposed Partnership's key principles when engaging and consulting with the sub-region's residents, businesses and stakeholders.

This report seeks scrutiny input into the Pledge as it develops.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That Panel provides feedback on the Engagement Pledge at Appendix A.

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS

To ensure scrutiny can help shape the Pledge as it develops.

OTHER OPTIONS CONSIDERED

Not to seek scrutiny input – discounted. Scrutiny adds value to the decision-making process and the views sought from the committee will shape considerations around the final Pledge.

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 The Engagement Pledge at Appendix A follows South Holland District Council’s Peer Review in July 2023 in which a recommendation was to “strengthen how the voice of residents and communities inform future service delivery”.
- 1.2 Despite this recommendation being specific to South Holland District Council, it is recommended that the Partnership adopts the Pledge as part of its corporate approach to engagement.
- 1.3 The Engagement Pledge sets out the broad principles of how each council will approach its engagement work. The Pledge makes clear each council’s commitment to providing a clear and consistent approach when engaging with residents, businesses and stakeholders.

2. REPORT

- 2.1 With more than 300,000 residents, thousands of small, medium and large businesses and a broad number of stakeholder agencies (such as neighbouring councils, Police, NHS, government and non-government agencies) across the sub-region, it is vital that the Partnership’s work reflects the thoughts and ambitions of its communities.
- 2.2 The Partnership’s engagement and consultation processes are crucial to how it communicates with its residents, businesses and stakeholders, however, each serve slightly different purposes.
 - Engagement refers to the process of involving the community in decision-making and keeping them informed about our activities. Engagement is about relationship building, gathering feedback, and encouraging a sense of involvement and ownership among residents.
 - Consultation is a more formal process which seeks input from the community on specific issues or decisions. This often involves seeking feedback on proposed policies, projects, or plans and may include public meetings, surveys, or focus groups.
- 2.3 In essence, engagement is broader and ongoing, focusing on communication and relationship-building, while consultation is more targeted and specific, seeking input on particular matters.
- 2.4 The scrutiny committee is asked to consider the Pledge and provide its feedback to shape the final version to be presented to the Executive Board.

3. CONCLUSION

This Pledge at Appendix A sets out the Partnership’s intention to have a consistent approach to engagement and consultation. Scrutiny input is important to shape the final version.

4. EXPECTED BENEFITS TO THE PARTNERSHIP

- 4.1 This Pledge, which will be published on the SELCP and individual Council websites, will bring a clear and transparent process when conducting engagement and consultation exercises in the future.
